Welcome

Public Speaking Institute

Designed to build 4th – 12th grade students' confidence in their public speaking skills, our Public Speaking Institute trains students in public speaking, logic, and rhetoric through an interactive and dynamic curriculum that encourages incremental progress through ongoing practice and exercise. During the program, students will participate in three main courses: Debate, Persuasive Speaking, and an elective.

“Unlike many summer camps, your staff clearly demonstrates they are subject matter experts, not just bodies filling an open position.”

Nandini Rao, parent of a Public Speaking Institute participant

Course Descriptions

Class overview

Public Speaking Institute students experience university life during their week on a college campus. Students live together in the dormitories, experience campus dining, and relax on campus with a wide array of sports and arts activities. The most recurrent comment made by students after camp is, "I never knew I would have so much fun!"

Debate

Learn the art of verbal combat! Students will construct persuasive positions, defend against and attack each other's arguments, and cross-examine effectively. Students will debate a variety of age- and experience-appropriate topics, form teams, and pit themselves against their co-campers. Past debate topics have included: school uniforms (elementary school), pre-emptive strike policy (middle school), and national security policy (high school).

Persuasive Speaking

Students craft and deliver convincing speeches. They start by performing a number of pre-written speeches in order to learn delivery, timing, and intonation. When students display comfort with delivery, they will begin to construct speeches based on their interests. Students learn to choose topics, establish captivating introductions, organize speech content, and deliver compelling conclusions! The focus is on speaking in a natural voice, with few or no notes, rather than writing an essay and merely reading it out loud, the form of "public speaking" taught by most teachers. All students end the week by presenting a speech in front of a large group of fellow campers.

Electives

In the evenings, students will get to choose from at least two of the following four elective speaking activities:

- ➔ Model Congress This elective provides an introduction to diplomatic and legislative speaking. Students role-play as members of Congress. Persuasive speaking, negotiations, and compromise are all stressed in a forum that allows students to sample the most exciting part of the political process!
- ➔ Negotiations You can't always get what you want...or can you? The negotiations elective stresses public speaking as a business and personal tool. Students will role-play scenarios in which their abilities to compromise and persuade are developed.
- ➔ Reader's Theater In this fun and popular elective, students write and perform a short play (or learn and perform a play for younger students). Students create their characters, devise plot twists, write dialogue, and deliver partial practice performances followed by the whole play.
- ➔ Improvisational Speaking This elective requires students to think on their feet and to deliver speeches with little or no preparation time. In the opening class, students are given ample time to prepare short speeches, and over the course of the program the time to prepare will shorten as the speeches lengthen. Fun and challenging topics are chosen, often with hilarious results!

Selected Faculty

Profiles of our outstanding instructors

Brianna Brody

Brianna earned her M.A. at California State University Northridge, where she was a teaching associate covering the fundamentals of public speaking courses. Brianna was also the assistant speech coach for the Matador Speech and Debate team, specializing in interpretive events, limited preparation, as well as platform speaking. In her last semester, Brianna was the recipient of the 2014 Richard B. Aronstam –Dedicated Service to Forensics, Speech and Debate Team Award at CSUN. Within the realm of Communication Studies, her interests lie within the field of performance studies and intercultural communication studies. Brianna has been coaching and competing in forensics for the past six years at the collegiate level.

Jesse Garrett

Jesse received his M.A. in International Relations from San Francisco State University, during which he worked part-time as a Special Education Tutor for low-income elementary and middle school aged students. Jesse is currently the Assistant Coordinator of Speech & Debate at James Logan High School, where he also coaches Impromptu, Congressional Debate, Oratorical Interpretation, and Original Advocacy. He is also pursuing his Master's in Education with Teaching Credential and Bi-lingual Certification at the University of San Francisco. Jesse was a very accomplished member of the nationally renowned James Logan High School Forensics Team from 1999 – 2001. In his senior year of competing, Jesse finished in 2nd place at the CAHSSA State Championships in Impromptu.

Jake Wasserman

Jake has taught and directed Education Unlimited programs since 1997. During the September to May “off-season,” Jake works on college readiness, career preparation, and civic development for students in the Oakland Unified School District. Jake earned his BA from UC San Diego and is currently a graduate student at Mills College, pursuing a joint MBA and Educational Leadership MA.

Robert Loy

Robert received his bachelor's and master's degree in Communication Studies at California State University Northridge, where he graduated with top honors, and was the recipient of the 2014 Outstanding Teaching Associate Award and Outstanding Graduate Student Award, as recognized by the Dean of his college. During his time at CSUN, Rob was a teaching associate and assistant debate coach on the Matador Speech and Debate team. He teaches at Cal State Northridge and Pierce College as an adjunct instructor teaching public speaking, argumentation, and intercultural communication.

*Advanced Session

“Yes! I would definitely recommend this camp to other students. It’s the full package. Before I came to camp, I thought it would be super easy. At first I even underestimated the teachers. I know now that the teachers are overqualified and they went beyond my expectations.

The level of intensity was very new to me because we had to physically present speeches every day I appreciate how it’s helped me grow out of my shell in just a week.”
